

Interviewer: I would like to ask you some questions about int week. So, how difficult or easy was it for you to start a conversation with students?

Interviewee: It was quite difficult, I have to say because usually I didn't know anyone, and they didn't make any efforts to let the students know each other by name or just figure out who's from the same country as you. <sup>[P]</sup><sub>[SEP]</sub>So, it's just hard to connect...

Interviewer: And did you make any friends during that week? I wouldn't really say so, I got to know a few people that I am at later during university, but it didn't during the Intro week, didn't really affect my friend groups.,

Interviewer: Would you feel comfortable using an app to meet people during the Intro Week?

Interviewee: yeah, I think that we have had a lot back then. <sup>[P]</sup><sub>[SEP]</sub>

Interviewer: And how would you feel about sharing your personal information in the app, like hobbies, interests, your name?

Interviewee: I am probably fine with that. like it was so hard to find friends back then, so I would be okay.

Interviewer: Do you think that if you had the Intro Week sort of gamified, for example, doing challenges on assigning icebreaker, it would have been easier to approach someone or get approached maybe?

Interviewee: I'm not sure, like, if gamification would have been that helpful, but I think just seeing who the people are there and what their hobbies are, that would have been quite helpful already.

Interviewer: So okay. <sup>[P]</sup><sub>[SEP]</sub>Thank you. so much.
